

The Arts Society Worcester
Private Talk on Canaletto: A Venetian View Exhibition
Worcester Museum and Art Gallery
11.30 Monday 24th October 2022

Celebrating the wonderful work of Canaletto, this exhibition features stunning paintings from Woburn Abbey, Tate, Compton Verney, and Birmingham Museums Trust – together with artworks from Worcester's Fine Art Collection.

Canaletto revolutionised the use of colour, ground and canvas and pioneered the technique of painting from life, sitting in front of the subject outdoors as opposed to his contemporaries of the time who completed paintings in the studio. This exhibition explores Canaletto's work and the impact he had on the generations of artists who followed him.

It is extremely rare for this hugely significant collection to leave Woburn Abbey, and this will be the first time the paintings will be united with other examples of Canaletto's work from Birmingham Museums and Compton Verney.

The exhibition is being described as the most ambitious in the history of Worcester City Art Gallery and Museum.

We have arranged a Private Talk about the Exhibition for The Arts Society Worcester's Members and their friends. There will be spaces for 25 people at a cost of £5 each. There is an entry fee for the Exhibition which will be in addition and anyone coming to the talk who wishes to view the exhibition afterwards will need to book and buy their own tickets on the Museum and Gallery Website. The cost of the exhibition is £8 or £4 for Art Fund members and Worcester City Residents (evidence of your address or payment of Worcester City Council Tax may be required).
